

BUSY BEES MAKE HONEY IN WALL OF RESIDENCE

Leckie Homestead to Be Used
As a Family Rendezvous.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SCOTTSVILLE, VA., November 18.—At the home of Mrs. Frank Parkman here, honey bees have made their home in the south wall of the house. They may frequently be heard at work as they manufacture liquid sweetness in this sheltered spot. Several attempts have been made to live them. But they have been unsuccessful. Three swarms have been seen at a time, but no one knows whence they came, as they did not belong to the former owners of the place. A sale of personal property—furniture, farming implements and horses—took place at the Leckie homestead, near Glendover, last week. Mr. Philip Butler will take charge of the farm, where the members of the family, now widely scattered, will meet from time to time. Miss Ruth Daniel is spending some time in Richmond. Mrs. J. C. Fredericksburg, is visiting Miss Rita Harris, of this place. Mr. C. B. Harris, Jr., is quite sick at his home. Miss Lucie Powers, who has been in Richmond for several weeks, will return home Thursday night.

Keister, formerly of this place, but now of Roanoke, is visiting friends in town. The Holy Hand Society gave an enjoyable social at the Baptist church on Thursday evening. The solos by Mrs. J. D. Moore and Miss May Anderson, and the recitations by Miss Bessie Lawson deserve special mention. At the close of the exercise, delightful refreshments were served for the benefit of the society, which is in a thriving condition.

HOWARDSVILLE, VA.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HOWARDSVILLE, VA., November 18.—Mrs. Will Brown and her mother, Mrs. Henry Loughborough, left for Washington this week to spend the winter. Mrs. Leslie Blair is visiting her sister in New York. Mrs. J. K. Irving went to Richmond Wednesday. General T. M. Logan returned to New York this week after a short visit to his home, "Algonquin." Mr. H. H. Stoddard left Friday for Richmond. Miss Elize Wimbish, of Danville, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. John Alexander, at Warren. Miss Sally Brady will go to Lynchburg Monday to visit her cousin, Mrs. Nannie Langhorn.

RIDGE HAPPENINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Seay, of "Spring Brook" farm, left last Monday for Amelia county, where they will spend this week visiting relatives and friends. The condition of Miss Temple Blackburn, who has been quite sick for some little time, is somewhat improved. Mrs. Nathan Coward, of Columbia, has been a guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Seay. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Meredith, of Westhampton, entertained quite a large number of their friends in their home last Friday evening. Mr. John Cullen, of Rio Vista, who left some time ago for Alexandria, has employment near that city. The box party held by the ladies of Ridge Church in the home of Miss Mamie Wilkinson on last Wednesday night was the most successful of its kind ever had in the neighborhood. The efforts of the ladies were handsomely rewarded, and the generosity of the gentlemen present is worth noting. Those who attended were: Mesdames Rozella Urban, Willie Shepherson, Bernice Oliver, Jessie Truitt, Lillian Hanchan, Rosabel Thorpe, Mamie Wilkinson, Lottie Wade, Ruby Franklin, Emma Wade, Edna Oliver, Thelma and Emma Tyler, and Mesdames Charlie Ford, Fairfax Jones, Howard Franklin, Paul Warburton, Everett Oliver, Alie Sadler, Willie Browning, Marion Gordon, Floyd Oliver, R. Continued Showing of Exquisite Millinery Moderately Priced.

It would be wrong if we said others did not show Pretty Hats. They do. Patrons that wear Reinach Hats say they are not in the same class for style. The cost is practically the same, oftentimes less. Originality, being a distinctive feature, is here fully developed.

See the display of the Prettiest Trimmed Hats in the city. If you are hard to please, satisfy yourself and be convinced.

Reinach 427 East Broad St. Reinach

WOMEN'S MEETINGS.

Masonic Home Auxiliary.

The annual meeting of the Masonic Home Auxiliary will be held at the Home on Tuesday, November 21st, and the Board of Governors have been invited to lunch with the ladies. Arrangements have been made for extra cars to carry down the company at 1 o'clock.

Willing Workers.

The Willing Workers of the Monumental Church will hold a sale of fancy articles on the 24th and 25th of November for the benefit of the kindergarten connected with the church. The ladies of the Guild have secured one of the windows in Quarles's store, No. 105 East Broad Street, and invite their friends to come and purchase some of their Christmas presents from them.

Memorial Exercises.

The cemetery at the Old Brick Church, near Bacon's Castle, Va., was the scene of impressive exercises last week, when over three hundred people from the surrounding country assembled in decorative graves that lie around the historic old church. After every grave had been decorated the crowd repaired to St. Andrew's Sunday School House, where the memorial exercises were held.

After a hymn and a prayer, the orator of the day, Mr. George W. Whitty, of Smithfield, Va., was introduced. His address was most inspiring, and he dwelt at length upon the duty of honoring the dead.
